

JANOME

ABOUT OUR COMPANY

Janome is the world's largest producer of practical home sewing machines. Janome America, Inc. is a wholly owned subsidiary of Janome Sewing Machines, Ltd., located in Japan. There are Janome subsidiaries in nine countries around the globe. Originally called New Home in the United States, we've been manufacturing sewing machines since 1860, and Janome America celebrated its 150th anniversary in 2010.

Janome is known across the industry for high-quality and innovative products. In fact, our company established the first ever research center for sewing machines. We were the first to develop a computerized machine for home use (the Memory 7, in 1979), and the first to offer professional style embroidery to the home market (the Memory Craft 8000, in 1990). We take this history very seriously; every day highly experienced designers assess the sewing needs of the entire range of Janome customers: from the brand new sewist to the highly skilled expert embroiderer. Our mission is to constantly find ways to improve the performance and reliability of Janome sewing machines.

From our top of the line flagship machines to our everyday value models, you can rely on Janome's enduring commitment to innovative design, unparalleled reliability and consistent quality. We stand behind every one of our products – and every one of our dealers. We're here to help you attract more customers, and to give you the marketing and educational support you need to keep those customers for life.

Peruse the following materials to get acquainted with the products in our line. Please contact us at any time for additional information. We look forward to working with you in the future!

Koganei Factory, Japan

New Home Factory, Orange, MA